

---

Rafa didn't think much of the human female when his prince first claimed her for a mate, but her strength of character soon wins him over. He watches with jealous eyes as the love blossoms between them, especially when she begins to swell with the prince's child. When Rafa's shaprata begins to mature, and the time arrives for him to claim a mate, he decides to return to Earth to claim a human of his own...

<http://myBook.to/Rafa>