

Sam Jansen, stuck in Dubai without a visa and working illegally as a psychic medium to make ends meet, knows if she gets caught, she'll lose her freedom as well as her five-year-old son.

Life can't possibly get much worse. Then it does.

A killer's unhealthy obsession for her lands murder, and with it law enforcement, on her doorstep—quite literally so. Just like that, Sam's life is entwined with that of an assassin who considers her his muse as he embarks on a journey to personal spiritual growth.
